

HAVOC CAUSED BY WINDSTORM ON PENINSULA

Daly City Visited By Hurricane—Trees Fall, Roofs Blown Off And Wires Torn From Poles

The 78 mile gale, which did a great deal of damage in all parts of San Mateo County, Wednesday of this week, boasted its loudest in Daly City at about 12:30 p.m. The tops were blown from our city reservoirs and the transformers near the water storage were badly affected by the gale. The motor on the best well was thrown out of commission and will not be in running order until Saturday. The wells remaining in working condition are pumping water night and day. We now have 3,000,000 gallons of water in reserve and men are busily engaged on the hill clearing the water of all wood and timbers.

A. J. Bodien, superintendent of the water department, urges all parents to keep their children away from the reservoirs, as it may be several days before repair work is complete and it not only is dangerous to the lives of youngsters but the purity of the water would be impaired by any foreign matter that a child might throw into its crystal depth. The locality of the reservoirs spells DANGER; so keep out.

Bodien estimates reparation in money due and payable by Mr. Wind will mount into figures possibly as high as $5000. The city council met in special caucus last evening to decide ways and means of temporarily covering the two reservoirs until permanent roofs can be built.

The fire alarm system was impaired for the time being and sounded two false alarms. Wires were blown down, here and there emitting fireworks as they fell. Firemen were Dinning is the son of Judge W. H. Dinning of South San Francisco.

Newest Cruiser Joins U.S. Fleet Pacific Maneuvers

This new 10,000 cruiser, U. S. S. Vincennes, is shown in Los Angeles harbor as she prepared to sail for maneuvers off the coast of Southern California with the Pacific Fleet. The Vincennes, recently accepted by the Navy, is one of the most powerful ships of its type in the world and was built under naval limitation treaties. According to observers, battlecraft of this type can prove more disastrous to an enemy than huge 35,000 ton battleships.

HIT RUNNER IS YOUNG WOMEN BAND CONCERT PURSUED MILES CHECK PASSERS WELL ATTENDED TO DALY CITY HELD TO ANSWER DESPITE STORM

One person, James Gunn, 35, of San Francisco, was injured in a three car crash, early Sunday morning of this week, on Bayshore Highway near Bayshore City.

Vere William Olney, 41, who identified himself as a superintendent of a San Francisco hospital, was not apprehended until James Gardner, San Francisco, chased him several miles into Daly City. Here police filed against him a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried today.

The accident occurred when Olney's car struck the southbound automobile driven by Earl Hampton, 40, San Francisco. William Thompson Kiernan, 40, also of San Francisco, was unable to avoid colliding with Hampton's machine, he said.

Gunn, the injured man, was treated at Mission Emergency Hospital for cuts on the face.

After Hearing Before Daly City Justice Girls Are Bound Over To Superior Court

The three young women, returned here from Oakland, last week, charged with passing spurious checks at a local cafe, were arraigned, Wednesday afternoon of this week, in the Justice Court of Judge Wade H. Clay.

The three girls—June Clark (alias Marian Hanson), Carolyn La Sansome and Bertha La Fournaisa appeared for preliminary hearing on the charge.

Evidence at the hearing disclosed that Miss Clark cashed a check for $31.50, purportedly signed by one F. L. Davis. This person was, by stipulation of attorneys in the case, admitted to be fictitious. This check was made out to and endorsed with the name of Marian Hanson.

The same amount, under like circumstances, was said to have been received by Miss Sansome.

The other girl, Miss La Fournaisa, was alleged to have issued and cashed a check in the sum of $31.50, drawn on the Colma branch of the Bank of America. It was later found that this defendant had no funds or credit at the bank to cover the check.

After hearing evidence, Judge Clay held all three defendants for trial in Superior Court.

POLICE DANCE TOMORROW EVE

The tenth annual ball of the Peninsula Police Officers Association will be held tomorrow, Saturday, February 12, at the Municipal Auditorium in San Jose.

The Police Departments from Daly City to Sunnyvale comprise the association, and the purpose of their annual ball is to provide funds for the widows and orphans of the association.

The ticket committee reports gratifying results, and a record crowd is expected to attend the ball, which promises to eclipse all previous events.

Those still desiring tickets may secure them from members of their local police departments, or the headquarters of the ticket committee in the Stafford Building, Redwood City.

LAST OF BROTHERS FREE

At Shelbyville, Ky., this week, the state dismissed murder charges against Dr. E. S. Garr, veterinarian, accused of the slaying of Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt.

He was the last of three brothers to win freedom in connection with General Denhardt's death.

In spite of wind and rain about 200 appreciative listeners gathered at the Jefferson Union High School auditorium, Tuesday evening of this week, to hear the band concert by the Daly City Band.

The program from beginning to end was rendered with a unity, smoothness and finesse that gives challenge to more experienced musical groups. The flutes, clarinets, bassoons, trumpets, horns, trombones, saxophones, cornets, drums, etc. responded to the able leadership of George Brenner in an excellent manner. It must be a wonderful experience to direct the rendition of one's own composition, and George demonstrated this event in the interpretation of his "Gateway to the Peninsula" march.

Our band boys will long remember the loyalty expressed to them by the many civic minded citizens, who braved disagreeable weather conditions in their behalf, and our town folk will be entitled to look forward to other concerts in the future.

ACCIDENTS DUE TO THE LACK OF COURTESY

It is queer how some people lead double lives. They can go about their every-day business and be just as nice and polite as anybody, but put them behind the steering wheel of a car and watch the change!

It pays to be courteous while you are driving, the National Safety Council says. It is not only the polite thing to do, but it is the common sense thing to do, for it will keep you out of accidents. When you meet another driver at an intersection, don't insist on the right of way. If he knows you have it, that's fine—but if he is in a controversial mood, don't argue! An accident may result. Give the pedestrian a break. Even if he is in the wrong, slow down and let him cross safely. Courtesy pays on the streets and highways.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

PRESS-MEN MEET IN SAN MATEO FOR BUSINESS

County Executive Attends Session And Promises Co-Operation With Association Members

County Executive Ernest A. Rollison at a dinner-meeting of the San Mateo County Press Association, Monday evening of this week, pledged co-operation with a campaign to "keep county printing at home."

In his remarks to the members at the meeting, Rollison said:

"County printing is a difficult situation. Some shops are not bonafide. They are operated in the basements of homes, at night, by owners who pursue other occupations by day. These operators attempt to bid for county business."

"Through this association we hope to obtain a list of legitimate shops which will enable us to make a fair distribution of the business."

Outlining the county purchasing procedure, the executive told of recent improvements, opening up county business to competitive bidding which benefits the merchant and the taxpayer alike.

"Ninety per cent of my business is satisfying people," Rollison declared. "The most trying proposition in my office is the purchasing."

A business session of the association followed.

The Times was host to members. In attendance were President and Mrs. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Brubaker and Geoffrey A. Curran of the Times; George McQueen and Editor Fred Glover, Burlingame Advance; Sam Winkelbleck, Redwood City Tribune; Mr. and Mrs. George E. Thompson, Menlo Park Recorder; Mrs. Aileen Bramble and Mr. and Mrs. Logan Franklin, South San Francisco Enterprise; George E. Dunn Sr., Half Moon Bay Review; J. C. Chastain, Belmont Courier; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McCue, Redwood City Standard; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lafferty, San Carlos Enquirer; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pitschke, Daly City Record.

The next meeting will be held at Burlingame.

TWO MEN HURT WHEN MACHINES COME TOGETHER

Crash Sends Drivers Of Both Cars To Hospital After Collision

A spectacular two car crash on El Camino Real at San Bruno, early Sunday of this week, caused serious injury to two men and painful cuts and bruises to four other motorists.

I. E. Snider, San Francisco, driver of one car, was treated at a South San Francisco hospital for a deep scalp laceration and numerous contusions about the body. Snider's companion, Richard Hayes, wandered away from the scene of the accident and was later picked up in a dazed condition. He was suffering with a fractured shoulder and severe head lacerations. He was treated at the Community Hospital.

The four occupants of the other car were cut and bruised.

Police said Snider's car was in the center of the highway, apparently attempting to make a turn when the accident occurred.

A Tale O' The Town

(By Joseph Straughan)

It might have happened to anyone, but it did happen to a lady who resides on upper Santa Barbara avenue. Nightly depredations were being made on her cupboard by a mouse. A munch here and a bite on cheese or butter were daily telltale reminders of his nightly visits. But who likes to share even a bite of butter with a mannerless mouse?

Now this lady of the hill knew well enough that scolding an absent mouse was just like forbidding the Japs to throw bombs in China, so she assumed a more Admiral Dewey like attitude. She baited a trap with Mr. Mouse's favorite tidbit and waited for revenge.

Next morning a peek into the cupboard revealed her quarry. Cremation will be a fitting doom for the pesky pest, thought the victorious one. But alas, the little captive was still alive! Well, you know how women are. I thought I did, but read on. This was a cautious mouse or a lucky one, anyhow only a toe or two was caught in the trap and the distressed creature sat there evidently waiting to be released. A shy glance at the entangled member and a woeful look at his captor with a "well why dontcha help me?" attitude was quite enough to make even this much annoyed lady melt with sympathy. As you might have guessed, she let the mouse go, Scot free.

Now she is the object of much derision from the heartless male members of her household. Her only defense is: "Well, if you could only have seen the pitiful look on the face of that poor little mouse."

In accordance with the directions in his will, the ashes of George Herbert Bennett, Australian surgeon, have been secretly buried 10,000 miles away from his home.

Crocker P. T. A. Has Regular Meeting

Crocker Parent Teacher Unit celebrated Founders Day at the regular meeting, Tuesday evening of this week. After a short business meeting the program chairman, Mrs. Orville D. Pauw, took charge.

Members of Boy Scout Troups from Daly City and the Cubs from Troop 149 carried the colors and led in the salute to the flag.

A life membership was presented to Mrs. Ivy Alexander of Antioch, who was the first and organizing president of Crocker Unit. It was during her term of office that the baby clinic was established, a Camp Fire group was sponsored, Boy Scout Troop 149 was also sponsored by Crocker during that year, large contributions to the school library and school dental clinic were made and the foundation laid for many more progressive movements.

A past president's pin was presented to Mrs. Julia V. Jordan, to replace her pin, which was lost. Mrs. Jordan was the second president in whose home Crocker Unit was organized and the first officers elected and installed. Mrs. Jordan has been an active Parent Teacher worker in Daly City from 1926 to the present time.

After honoring their own founders, the members turned their attention to the founders of the National Congress, Mrs. Birney and Mrs. Hearst.

A pageant based on Ruskin's "Seven Lamps of Learning," adapted by Dr. Charles A. Beard, and preceded by a candle lighting ceremony was presented by past presidents and members of the Unit. Mrs. Orville D. Pauw sang a solo, with Miss Corrine Pauw as accompanist.

Mrs. Floyd Beach of Menlo Park was the speaker of the evening. Her subject was Early Days of the Founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

After the meeting refreshments were served and the Founders Day cake was cut.

War And Banditry Harmful Weeds

(Contributed)

Far across the seas men are hating, fighting and killing each other in face of that divine demand ringing down through the ages, "God is Love."

To our comfortable firesides our newspapers and radios bring us daily accounts of the slaughter of hundreds and thousands of young men, whose parents had reared them, step by step, through the years—and for what? Cannon fodder? Homelessness, starvation and other conditions too horrible for words follow in the wake of war's destruction, which lists its toll of suffering among the women, children and the aged.

If there were no hatred in the world there would be no wars and in individual consciousness it first must find lodgement before it can take form in word or deed.

Enmity and war is often expressed in early childhood, when youth is allowed to perform with toy guns or makeshift imitations of death-dealing weapons. Playing bandit is often considered a great sport among our youngsters and it is not uncommon to be confronted by a miniature man with a make-believe and hear him say, "Stick 'em up." All too often we hear of childish pranks ending in gruesome tragedies. "He didn't know the gun was loaded."

There are so many constructive and destructive games for juvenile entertainment these days, the consideration of which should involve our careful attention. Peaceful loving thoughts engender peaceful loving actions. Are we as parents thinking and acting in terms of world peace when we select our children's toys?

One of our most loved radio stars recently gave voice in words to this effect, "World peace can be realized by engendering love for all mankind in the mentalities of our little ones." We can help them at home to find sport that will inspire friendliness and good fellowship between themselves and their little playmates. Let's start in eliminating the weeds from our thought gardens.

FEDERAL TROUP MAKE GREAT HIT WITH CHILDREN

Full Length Musical And Pantomime To Be Staged
At Alcazar Theater

School children will have their inning in the theater for the next six Saturday afternoons when "Pinocchio," a full length musical and pantomime production will be staged by the Federal Theater Project at the Alcazar Theater in San Francisco.

The cast will consist of more than sixty actors. Special scenic and light effects with new scenery built especially for this play plus new, colorful and fantastic costumes are in readiness for the premiere next Saturday, February 12. The matinee starts at 2:30.

"Pinocchio" is the story of a little wooden boy who came to life as a human being after many adventures in fairyland, the circus and under the sea. The principal parts will be taken by such outstanding actors as Grace Cooper, Robert Clarke, Frank Lyons, Crawford Perks and others who have distinguished themselves in the adult Federal Theater plays.

By special arrangement with the various Boards of Education of the Bay District, children of school age will be admitted at greatly reduced prices.

AUTO PLATES CHANGE COLORS FOR THIS YEAR

Presenting the color parade of 1938 license plates, a recent report declares that 35 states have adopted entirely changed color schemes for the new years plates. Eleven states and the District of Columbia will keep the present combination of hues, but will reverse the colors as to lettering and background. Two states, Connecticut and West Virginia, will make no change at all.

California will be one of the states presenting a new color effect for 1938. Yellow will take the place of orange, used for a number of years, as a background for black letters and numerals.

The black and yellow combination, which has a high degree of visibility, will head the list as the most widely used color scheme in 1938 with its adoption by ten states. Black and white, last year the most popular, will be used by only five states this year.

One of the features of the new license plate color range will be the increase in popularity of aluminum as a color. Making its first appearance on license plates only a few years ago, aluminum will grace the permanent license plates of Connecticut and will be used by seven other states and three Canadian provinces.

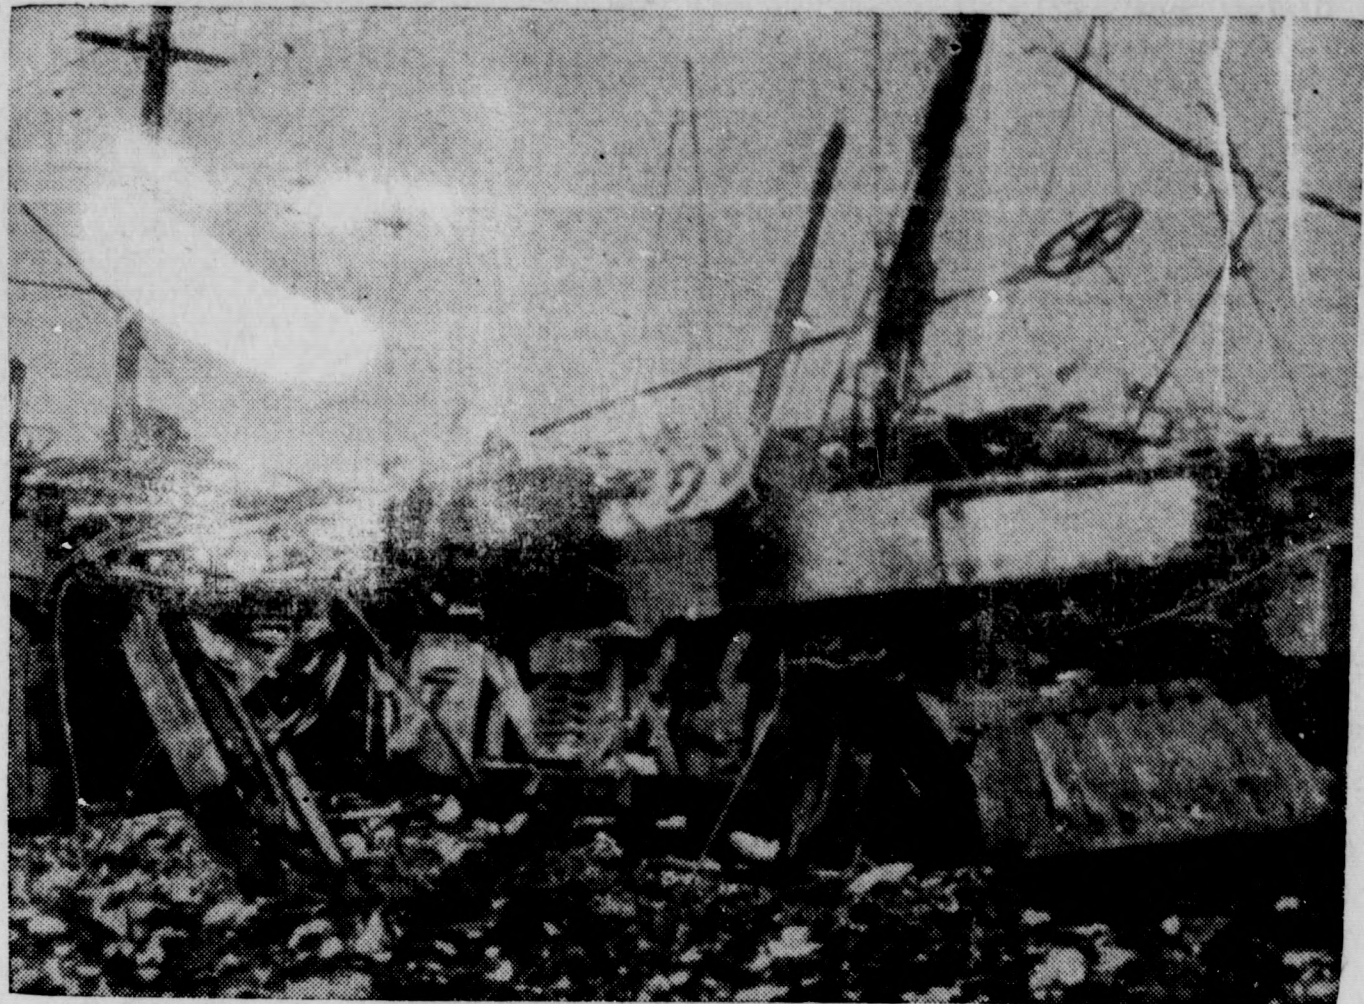

The list reveals some exotic color combinations. Florida has chosen for its 1938 plates a "canary yellow" and "midnight blue." Colorado plates will have a background of "turquoise green." Ontario, Canada, cars will sport license plates of orange and "peacock blue."

In addition to the states with new color schemes, all United States territories and possessions and all but one Canadian province will display completely changed color combinations. The list of 1938 plate colors follows:

Black on yellow, Arizona, California, District of Columbia, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Nova Scotia; black on white, Ohio and Virginia; black on ivory, Missouri; black on orange, Montana; black on green, Michigan; black on gold, North Carolina; black on aluminum, Connecticut, Oregon, Wisconsin and New Brunswick; aluminum on black, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Jersey and Quebec; aluminum on green, Prince Edward Island; blue on aluminum, Tennessee; green on aluminum, Maine; red on aluminum, Delaware; white on black, Kansas, Rhode Island, Texas and Manitoba; white on red, Arkansas and Canal Zone; white on green, Colorado, Illinois, Maryland and New Hampshire; white on blue, Mississippi and South Dakota; white on maroon, Idaho and Massachusetts; white on vermillion, Louisiana and Saskatchewan; red on white, Indiana and Alaska; green on white, Kentucky, Washington and Philippines; blue on white, Iowa, Vermont and Puerto Rico; maroon on white, Utah; crimson on white, Alberta; orange on blue, Georgia and Ontario; yellow on blue, Florida; silver on blue, Nevada; gold on blue, Wyoming; blue on yellow, Pennsylvania; cream on maroon, British Columbia; orange on purple, Alabama; yellow on black, New York, West Virginia and Hawaii.

BOMB INTENDED FOR S. S. LURLINE BLASTS BAGGAGE CAR

An infernal machine, smuggled into the mail and intended to destroy the liner S. S. Lurline, was believed by Los Angeles police and federal officers to have caused the blast and fire which burned down to the trucks a Pacific Electric baggage car. Authorities believe the bomb exploded prematurely, destroying the car and mail, including registered mail intended for Hawaii, the Philippines and Australia. Investigators discovered pieces of a broken bottle, the wooden ends of a small box and other evidences of incendiaryism. Photo shows all that remains of the $15,000 mail car.

BASKETBALLERS AT JEFFERSON ARE DEFEATED

San Jose High Players Successful In Two Contests
Last Week

The championship bound San Jose High School Bulldogs added another victory to their list, Friday evening of last week, when they defeated the Jefferson Varsity and 130 basketball teams. The Bulldogs caught the Indians somewhat off form, as they only had one practice in the week due to the heavy rains. Both San Jose teams outclassed the Indians, especially in the lightweight division.

In the opener the Jefferson 130's were handed a decisive 23-7 defeat by the San Jose squad. The first period was comparatively close with the half time score only 7-11 in favor of the San Jose lads. As the second half got under way the black and white squad rang up 12 points while their defense held the Indians scoreless. Both the first and second strings of Jefferson looked fairly good on the floor against a superior opponent. The San Jose thirties had good teamwork in ball passing and were exceptionally fast breakers in offense.

The Indian unlimiteds dropped the second contest by a score of 17-35. Despite our determined efforts the Bulldogs jumped into an early lead which they held throughout the game. Captain Charles Murray turned in a fine game and led the Jefferson scorers with 7 points while Glen Smith followed up with 6.

This Friday night at 7:30 Jefferson meets the San Mateo Bearcat basketball team at San Mateo.

New Motor Speed

When breaking in a new or reconditioned motor occasional spurts of speed are not harmful provided a few rules are observed, it is said.

It is not advisable to drive faster if the motor is already hot. But if motor temperature is below average, speeding up to 45 miles per hour for ten or twelve miles should help to seal the piston rings. Sustained high speed for longer periods should be avoided until the motor is thoroughly broken in, usually after 1000 miles or more.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
JOHN J. McGRATH

Recovery—Disbursements by business and disbursements by government are two ways in which recovery may be effected. Pressure on incomes and commodity prices has been felt recently because business has been decreasing its expenditures. There are many reasons why many fear that a natural recovery may not be possible. Among these are rigid prices, existing unutilized capacity in industry, declining world trade, and increased building costs. The only way out is for the government to take steps to provide the increased incomes that business is not able to do. This is now under consideration, President Roosevelt revealed.

Housing—The housing or home building industry still offers the broadest opportunity for expansion. This industry if expanded would not only provide homes, but money and work for men. It is generally agreed that if the Federal Housing Act, amended to guarantee for mortgages covering up to 90 per cent of building costs on small homes, does not appeal to lenders, or prospective builders, the government will take drastic action to start the industry going. Much consideration is given to an agency to be created like the Home Owners Loan Corporation that would be supplied by the government, with capital and finance home construction on a low interest rate basis. Money would thus be put to work on a broad scale and in a short time.

Assistance To Needy—The objectives of the Social Security program was to banish the dread of poorhouses, protect helpless children, and give aid to the blind. According to the Social Security Board, such objectives are being attained. They conclude that the large part of those receiving assistance under the old age program have no other form of money income. Families receiving aid for dependent children are, mostly, homes broken by the death or absence of the father. Last, the aid to the blind is provided a great deal to the individuals suffering from old age. Some 2,109,000 are being helped in these three ways by the Social Security program.

Credit Machinery—Small business needs some new credit machinery to take care of the sound capital needs of operating industry not in the big business class. Private individuals, under a new plan being considered, could buy participation in the industrial lending business and purchase certificates which would be backed by a government guarantee.

Aliens To Be Eliminated—A provision to stop the expenditure of government appropriation funds for the hire of aliens appeared in two of the appropriation bills that the House passed this session. It is likely that such provisions will be extended in future government appropriation bills, with probably a few exceptions.

Cloture Rule—Many of you readers are probably not sure of the meaning of the Cloture Rule, of which there has been much talk lately in regard to the anti-lynching filibuster in the Senate. The Cloture Rule is the only way in which a filibuster can be limited. This rule consists of provision that a motion signed by 18 Senators calling for an end to debate on any pending measure, be laid before the Senate on the second following day. The motion must be supported by two thirds of the Senators present, in order for the motion to take effect and then the bill becomes "unfinished business" and no Senator may speak for more than an hour on it. Only four times has this rule been applied in the Senate. At the consideration of the Versailles treaty; World Court membership; on the McFadden Banking Bill; and on the bill creating a Bureau of Prohibition. Efforts to push it on the anti-lynching filibuster has failed so far.

Trade Mark Register Available—A trade mark may be registered in the Patent Office, by any person, firm, corporation, or association domiciled in the United States or in any foreign country according to a similar privilege to citizens of the United States, if the applicant proves ownership of the trade mark, pays the fee required and follows regulations of the Patent Office. $15 is the original application fee. A pamphlet giving the United States Statutes and Patent Office Rules relating to trade mark registration is available by writing to my office.

Navy Enlargement—In his message to Congress on expansion of our navy and strengthening of our army, the President stated that the United States' national defense is inadequate for purposes of national security in view of the increasing armaments of other nations, and for that reason should be increased. He stated that our defense was "not limited to one ocean—one coast," but should take into consideration communities far removed from the coast. His recommendations were based "not on aggression, but on defense."

Free Export Trade Advice—The Department of Commerce continually receives inquiries from foreign countries for purchase of United States products. The current issues of "Commerce Reports" is published by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and may be had for a small subscription fee, from the Government Printing Office at Washington, but specific information may be had without charge by firms and individuals on any of these trade opportunities by application to the Bureau or its branch offices located in centers of business in the United States. On file at the Bureau are inquiries on automobile repair shop tools, hack saw blades, leather belting, paper napkins, ribs and hooks, cameras and other articles. Information about these may be obtained from the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce at Washington, or write to my office.

Studies Hieroglyphics For Costumes

RUTH ALLEN

An academic and classical education in Mills College stands Ruth Allen in good stead in her present work as head of the designing and costume department of the San Francisco Federal Theater. It was through her ability to decipher fac-similes of hieroglyphics from the ancient records of Egypt that Miss Allen was enabled to produce exact replicas of the garments worn several thousands of years back for use in the dramatic pageant of ancient Egypt. "The Sun And I," now playing at the Alcazar. Not only has Miss Allen produced authentic design and pattern, but she has attained the weave effect and colors of the fabrics used by the Pharaohs and their subjects in that far gone day. The flashing colors of tunics and drapes and the rich ornamentation of the royal and wealthier Egyptians, when the Phoenicians were the most expert dye producers in the world, are carefully reproduced on the stage in the garments of the nearly 100 actors playing parts in "The Sun And I."

Anton Szechi of Budapest courted 15 women and married 12 of them before being arrested as a swindler.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NEWS OF INTEREST

The following is a report written by Florence Bautista, president of the student body after having viewed the film.

"Our first film this term dealt with our first president, George Washington, whose birthday will be on February 22. When Washington was appointed commander-in-chief of the army during the Revolutionary War, he met his men under an old elm tree in Massachusetts, in 1775. This elm tree remains today as one of the historical land-marks of the United States.

"Washington was very capable and kind. During the Revolutionary War he was always thinking of what was happening to his men. He never worried about himself. As a reward for what he had done for his country during the War for Independence the people elected him the first president of the United States and the Capital of our country was named after him.

"Washington died in Mount Vernon, December 14, 1799, and will always be remembered as the 'Father of Our Country'."

Participate In Boy Scout Celebration

Scouts, cubs, and students of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School gathered in a mass student body meet to further impress the populace of the school in scouting activities. Scout Allen Rigler was chairman of the program. As the Stars and Stripes were raised by Scouts Przborski and Dyer the student body and other participating scouts and cubs saluted. Scout James Poket led the student body in the pledge of allegiance. Scout Willis Bennett conducted the scouts in reciting their oath and law, which was followed by Cub Henry Herting and his group reviewing the cub promise.

Scout Donald Laston gave a brief review on the "History of Scouting," which was followed by a stimulating talk by Scout Lawrence Christiansen on "Merit Badges and How to Obtain Them." The impressive

Honored At Shower

Mrs. Rose Guardella of 152 Whittier street entertained 35 guests, Tuesday of this week, at a bridal shower in honor of her sister, Miss Mary Ann Gargiula of Brunswick street, who plans to become the bride of William Segale of San Francisco at the end of this month.

The bride-elect received many lovely gifts. Tasty refreshments were served at an artistically decorated table. The centerpiece was a crepe paper umbrella with cellophane streaming from it to represent a shower.

NUT BREAD

(From Mrs. H. Elmers)

4 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
Pinch of salt
1½ cups chopped walnuts
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
Enough milk to make stiff batter

Mix flour, baking powder, salt and walnuts together, reserving ¼ cup of the sugar. Add yolks of the eggs and the milk and last of all the stiffly beaten whites to which the reserved sugar has been added. Makes two loaves.

FUDGE CAKE

(From Mrs. Clarissa Scott)

4 tablespoons shortening
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
4 squares chocolate (4 ounces) melted
1½ cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts

Cream shortening. Add 1½ cups of the sugar gradually, then well beaten egg yolks. Cream all together thoroughly. Blend in melted chocolate. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Beat just enough to make batter smooth (about 5 seconds). Blend in vanilla and nuts. Make a meringue by beating egg whites until stiff enough to hold a point, then gradually beating into them remaining ½ cup sugar. Fold this meringue into batter. Pour into well greased and floured layer pans or large loaf pan and bake 40 to 45 minutes for layers, 50 to 55 minutes for loaf, in moderate oven (350 degrees). Pans for layers should be 9 inch and for loaf 8x12.

This cake has a delicious fudge-like flavor and consistency and is complete without icing.

1 egg
½ cup milk
1½ cups flour

ITALIAN COOKING DEPENDS ON THIS

The beautiful Italian pear-shaped tomato is a comparative newcomer to the United States, but it is already the basis of a big industry in these fertile inland valleys of California. In the large cannery at Riverbank is a picture worthy of the modern artist who delights in machinery and masses of color. The smooth, thick stream of tomato paste is flowing from great steam cookers overhead into an open tank or vat, like a witch's cauldron. The vat is of glass, although it looks like metal. It holds about 10,000 cans of tomato paste. As the vat rapidly fills, an inspector, all in white, spoons out a sample of the paste and dashes across the room to a laboratory, where he puts it through various tests. The big, high room is full of steam and the delightful aroma of tomato.

On the floor below, hundreds of workers and scores of machines are filling small cans with the tomato paste. Beside each row of empty cans on a belt conveyor stand girls with sprays of basil in their hands. Basil, or basilico, is an herb, something like mint, which makes all the difference to the epicure of tomato paste. There are great fields of it, being cultivated in the river bottom outside this cannery. It is brought in in great, fresh bunches, and a sprig of it goes into the bottom of every can. Then the tomato paste is poured over it. The basil is green when it goes into the can, and it is still green when you take it out, even though you live in Boston.

The cans continue on their long journey. They are filled, sealed, cooled, labeled, packed in cartons, and started on their journey to consumers all over the country. Originally in demand by Italians, who use the paste in preparing spaghetti and other dishes, it is now coming into much more general use.

Outside the cannery, lining the roadside for a considerable distance, are scores of truckloads of tomatoes, waiting their turn to be unloaded. The plant is working twenty-four hours a day on three eight-hour shifts.

Geniale Lorenzo Zerillo is a pioneer in this industry. He first had a small plant in New Jersey, but moved to California some years ago, and is now a prominent figure in this community. His cannery is a landmark in the economic life of the valley, and his home, like many Italian homes, is a cultural and musical center which attracts lovers of the artistic and the beautiful from miles around, even as his cannery draws the bright, pear-shaped tomatoes from farms within a radius of many miles. Here amidst the profusion of rich farm lands, one may stand under an arbor where grow 16 different varieties of grapes and hear, through the open windows of a hospitable home, voices which have echoed through many an opera house in Europe and America.

ISSUE INVITES

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Eleanor Bernadine Milhaupt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Milhaupt of San Mateo, and Ray Walter Sweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sweeney of Mission street, Daly City, which is to be solemnized at Saint Matthew's Church in San Mateo, Saturday morning, February 26.

New Geyser Discovered Near L. A. Camp

Spouting into activity recently, a 90 foot geyser of hot water and steam was discovered by Tom Harrison, manager of the Los Angeles municipal camp in the high Sierra. Harrison was making his winter inspection of the camp when he discovered the new geyser. The ground through which the hot water was spouting was covered with a deep carpet of snow.

LINCOLN SOUGHT JUSTICE FOR ALL

One of the most celebrated of American State Papers is the Emancipation Proclamation, issued on September 22, 1862, and now over 75 years of age. A few months ago this historical document was removed from the dusty files of the State Department to the vaults of the Archives Building.

It is related that after President Lincoln had drafted the original form of this statute he was advised by Secretary of State Seward to put it aside until the Union had won an important victory. This the president did. Then finally came the battle of Antietam. The time to act had come.

The night before the signing of the proclamation, Lincoln did not retire. Back and forth in his study he paced, pausing now and then to read a few favorite verses from the Bible. Often he gazed earnestly at the sky as if seeking inspiration from on high.

Mrs. Lincoln was opposed to the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation. The following morning she went to the chief executive's office and in her quick, brisk manner inquired what he intended doing about it. The light of heaven seemed to illumine the good man's face, for the moment, removing its lines of care, and again looking Above for guidance he replied, "I am a man under orders and cannot do otherwise." That day Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation.

Tomorrow is the birthday of this patriot who sought liberty for all mankind.

A New Anecdote About Lincoln—To Celebrate His Birthday Tomorrow

(By Hart Goodrich)

The Lincoln Memorial, one of the most beautiful shrines in the world, will be the setting for Abraham Lincoln memorial exercises here, tomorrow, at which President Roosevelt will be guest speaker.

Forty organizations will lay wreaths at the memorial statue in the impressive ceremony which will include a concert by the United States Marine Band and a parading of colors by representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

If all the Lincoln anecdotes were thought to have been aired by this time, readers of the February Atlantic Monthly are due for a surprise, and to add particular zest to the story, we understand that it concerns the late Justice Holmes, too.

To use Alexander Woolcott's own words, the Justice was, in his Civil War service, stationed at Fort Stevens when the Confederates under Early were attacking Washington and—

"Lincoln having come out from the White House to inspect the defenses, the task of piloting him had fallen to Holmes. Lincoln, too, wanted to know just where the enemy were, and Holmes pointed them out. The President stood up to look. Now, when standing up and supplemented by his high plug hat, Mr. Lincoln was a target of exceptional visibility. From the rebel marksmen came a snarl of musketry fire. Grabbing the President by the arm, the young officer dragged him under cover, and afterward in wave upon wave of hot misgiving was unable to forget that in doing so he had said, 'Get down, you fool!'"

"Admittedly this was not the approved style for an officer to employ in addressing the commander in chief of the armed forces of his country. The youthful aide was the more relieved when, just as Lincoln was quitting the fort, he took the trouble to walk back. 'Good-by, Col. Holmes,' he said, 'I'm glad to see you know how to talk to a civilian!'"

The possible reason why Justice Holmes was so shy about telling the above story undoubtedly was that any number of officers had started stories about the protection they, personally, had accorded the Commander-in-chief from Early's snipers and that it took him a good fifty years to recover from his distaste enough to tell it, and then only in rare confidences.

Entertains Club At Birthday Party

Mrs. Margaret Orr of Theta avenue was hostess for the members of the Birthday Club, Friday of last week.

Mrs. Katherine Mara was the honored guest and the second anniversary of the club was also celebrated.

A delicious luncheon was served on red glass dishes. The table was attractively decorated in red berries, a huge birthday cake gracing the center of the table, and each guest received a chocolate heart with two candles on it and a comic valentine.

After luncheon the game of Tripoli was played, Mrs. Mary Walker receiving first honors, Mrs. Mattie Smith second and Miss Jane Walker third.

Those enjoying this delightful affair were Mesdames Doris Burdick, Mae Hopkins, Grace Coolish, Agnes Wood, Mattie Smith, Cora Ray, Mary Walker, Wilma Plumb and Margaret Rudy and Miss Mary Jane Walker.

Native Daughters Outline Activities

El Carmelo Parlor's first meeting of the new term was opened by Sister Margaretha Schade, the worthy president-elect. Plans were made for the Parlor Birthday Anniversary party, which will be celebrated at the Riviera on February 24.

A kid's party was held after the meeting and was carried out with the Valentine motif. The drum corps is making ready for their benefit whist party to be held February 16 at the Masonic Hall. The public is cordially invited.

Republican Field Barren Of Timber Suitable To Make Presidential Candidate

Senator Vandenberg has just announced, first, that "I shall not seek Republican nomination or any other Presidential nomination in 1940," and second, that "I hope I shall never run away from any public duty or obligation which confronts me."

However, there is the following sentence that is not quite clear, for he says, apropos of his other statements, that "I have no illusions in these directions as respects the 1940 situation."

Perhaps it would clear the residue mists of the Michigan Senator's ideas on the subject to interpret his remarks in this wise: "If it looks as if there was a Chinaman's chance of the Republican candidate for President getting anywhere in 1940, I'll be Johnny-on-the-spot, but I do not propose becoming a burnt offering if things do not look any better than they looked for Governor Landon in 1936."

Of course in this glorious, free country of ours anybody can interpret anything in any way he pleases. As for example when the President of the United States says he wants to cooperate with every honest business and is hostile only to a mere handful who would abuse their opportunities, a Republican editor can accuse him of setting up straw men to knock down. But that is a digression. We were discussing possible Republican candidates for the Presidential nomination two years hence.

Conforms With Confusion On Party's Principles

When you come to think of it, Senator Vandenberg, assuming that he was avid for the nomination, could hardly declare his ambition at this time because if he did, he would stir up all the possible rivals for the empty honor and thus make determination more difficult. On the other hand, if he wanted to avoid it, he could hardly place himself in the position of declining so long in advance a nomination that might never be offered him. In short, the Senator is keeping strictly in line with the groping of his party, which appears unable to make up its mind on what it is going to do.

Professor Glenn Frank, ex-President of the University of Wisconsin and now chairman of the Republican party's program committee, gives us the illuminating fact that "it is not the business of this committee to write platforms for the 1938 or 1940 campaign." And Mr. Frank E. Gannett, chairman of the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government, which is the residuary legatee of the Liberty League, in declining membership in Professor Frank's committee, specifically explains that he cannot join in any platform making organization because of the non partisan character of his own. "I wish," wrote Mr. Gannett to Dr. Frank, "you and your associates success, and hope you will draft a platform that will help solve the great problems we face."

A party platform is a declaration of the party's principles. Its purpose is to tell voters the aims and policies because of which their suffrages are asked. In fact, in the call upon Professor Frank to take the chairmanship it was expressly stated that the purpose of the Committee of One Hundred was to formulate just such a declaration. To quote Professor Frank himself, the committee "will seek to play its full part in a sincere, open minded, responsible search for principles and lines of national action that will keep America a growing concern."

So if he is not engaged in formulating a platform, it is rather difficult to find out just what he is doing.

Candidate Field Barren

Mark Sullivan, staunchest of the G. O. P. publicists, even if he, no more than anybody else, knows what the G. O. P. stands for at this time, recently attempted a survey of the fields of possible candidates. He dismissed Senator Vandenberg with a sentence, saw no hope among the few remaining Republican governors, admitted that the House of Representatives is a barren field, went down among the mayors and dismissed LaGuardia of New York because he had taken himself out of the Republican running by registering as a member of the American Labor Party—and finally came to this despairing conclusion: "It is at least a possibility that the Democrats who believe in holding America to its traditions might find themselves cut off from their former allegiance. If this group should name a Presidential candidate from the abundant material they have—in such an event—the Republicans might find in this quarter the man they seem to lack within their own ranks."

Mr. Sullivan does not specifically pick the Democrat that he would like to have run on the Republican ticket, but he mentions, amid "an abundance of material adequately equipped to be President," Senator Edward R. Burke of Nebraska, Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia and Senator Joseph Bailey of North Carolina.

SOVIET SCIENTISTS ADRIFT ON POLAR ICE FLOE

Hope for an aerial rescue of the Soviet scientists adrift on an ice floe at the North Pole was dimmed recently when the Russian dirigible V-6 crashed into an Arctic mountain. The huge flying machine was preparing to effect a rescue when tragedy overtook it. Radio messages from the men on the floe indicate they were still safe but drifting rapidly toward the shores of Greenland. A recent Arctic storm cracked up the ice and part of the scientific equipment was lost. Photo shows the party, left to right, E. Fyodorov, E. Krenkel, P. Shirkov and I. Papanin, chief of the group.

Up to date, we have not read anywhere the reaction of any of these Democratic Senators to Mr. Sullivan's nomination.

RAIN STALLS MOTOR

Moisture may collect on ignition parts and cause short circuits when a car is left standing in the rain.

The best way to eliminate such "shorts" is to wipe or fan dry all affected parts. A non-explosive cleaning fluid or fire extinguisher fluid speeds up the drying process if squirted on wires and connections where sparks can be seen jumping.

LARGER NUMBER OF ACCIDENTS IN NEW YORK

California's highway deaths for 1937 were slightly in excess of 3100, according to a tentative compilation announced today by Director Ray Ingels of the State Department of Motor Vehicles. The director said: "While the December check has not been completed, indications are that the 1937 death toll will be approximately the same as that of 1936 when highway casualties in California totaled 3132."

"Highway deaths in California during the first eleven months of last year totaled 2770 in 32,425 accidents. Official figures received recently from New York state show that there were 2781 motor vehicle fatalities there in the first eleven months of 1937, resulting from a total of 75,428 accidents. Thus the records show that New York, with a comparable but slightly lower motor vehicle registration, had twice as many accidents and a slightly greater death toll than California."

"There is a probability that the grand total of traffic deaths in California for 1937 will be slightly under that of 1936, during which year 3132 persons were killed. But the fact that the record is so close to that of a year ago impresses on us that safety work throughout the state must be increased."

Tentative figures over the nation for 1937 show 39,243 traffic deaths and 1,374,000 injuries. The California record shows 5300 injuries in addition to the deaths.

Ingels cited the state and nationwide record as a positive mandate for officials and motorists to work together more closely in helping to cut down the ghastly record during 1938.

DISSERTATION ON LINCOLN HEARD BY HI STUDENTS

Speaker Lived For Time Near Martyred President's Birth- place In Kentucky

In celebration of Lincoln's birthday Dr. Louis A. Warren, director of the Lincoln National Foundation at Fort Wayne, Ind., gave an address on Lincoln to the Jefferson Union High School students, yesterday.

For several years the speaker lived in Kentucky, part of the time near Lincoln's birthplace, where he edited a newspaper, became contributor to leading historical magazines and gathered source material for his first book, entitled "Lincoln's Parentage and Childhood."

Now residing in Indiana, Dr. Louis has made a special study of the fourteen formative years Lincoln spent in that state. Besides this, he is the founder and editor of Lincoln Lore, a publication containing Lincoln information.

As director of the Lincoln Foundation, he has gathered what is said to be the largest collection of literature ever assembled about one man, biblical characters excepted. His books and pamphlets of Lincoln number over 4,000 volumes. The foundation is known as the center of Lincoln information in America.

The students of Jefferson were privileged to have a man with such an admirable record appear before them and speak on the subject with which he is so thoroughly familiar.

AVOID EMPTY TANK

Added to the inconvenience of running out of gasoline are other reasons why it is not good to let the tank run dry or even low.

Line and other foreign matter accumulates in the gas tank and when the fuel supply gets low these substances may be drawn into the fuel line, seriously affecting motor performance. Often it takes several days to get a fuel line thoroughly clean after the tank has been allowed to run dry.

COMMITTEE FOR JEFFERSON HIGH

The names of the members of the Jefferson Union High School sergeant at arms committee for the spring semester were recently announced by Sergeant at Arms Kevin Epidendio and approved by the executive board.

This committee is one of the most important factors in the student government, for their work partially determines the conduct of the school.

The committee selected to aid the sergeant at arms consists of fourteen students. It differs slightly from past years, inasmuch as the names of two girls appear on the list. These girls are Doretta Wilson and Lena Gamba. The balance of the committee members, as approved, consists of the following: George Schenone, Ray Kennedy, Robert Savelly, Harry Grantham, George Balletto, Frank Remington, Tony Ciarlo, Ed Colombini, Harvey Smith, Thomas Stanghellini, Robert Christen and Chester Flansburg.

Colma News Notes

Members of the Jefferson High School Parent Teachers Association will meet at their regular session, Tuesday evening of next week, at the high school building. A special program has been arranged for the celebration of Founders Day. An important spring event for the unit will be a dessert luncheon and whist party to be given, Wednesday afternoon, April 6, at the home of Mrs. Stella Jensen in Lawndale.

The Colma Volunteer Fire Department extends a cordial welcome to those who wish to attend their regular monthly whist party which will be held, Friday evening of this week, at the Jefferson School Annex. Playing will begin at 8:30 sharp with Ray Guisti acting as chairman of the evening.

Members of the Ladies Home Club of Colma met in regular session, Tuesday afternoon of this week, at the club house on Werner avenue. Routine business was conducted after which the members spent a pleasant afternoon sewing. Delicious cake and coffee were served to those present at the close of the meeting.

Announcement has been made by the Ladies Home Club of Colma of the postponement until March of the monthly whist party, due to the fact that the date previously set falls on the evening of Washington's Birthday.

Cypress Circle No. 14, U. A. O. D., held its regular meeting, Wednesday evening of this week, at Colombo Hall. Plans were formulated for a monster whist party which will be held in Colombo Hall March 1. Mesdames Margaret Steele and Jeanette Fellman were chosen as chairmen of the committee. Following the meeting, members enjoyed tasty refreshments served by Chairman Dora Morton and her committee in the banquet room.

The old Paul Revere system was resorted to by the Colma Volunteer Fire Department, Wednesday of this week, when a fire was reported at one of the houses on Railroad avenue belonging to Eugene Del Buono. With electric current at a stand still, the familiar siren refused to work at the fire house. The firemen then resorted to the truck's own siren and drove it around, picking up firemen as it went along. The fire originating in the chimney was brought under control without appreciable damage.

Mrs. Margaret Minabery of San Francisco received a fractured right arm and concussion, Sunday morning of this week, when she was struck by an auto on Mission street near Jefferson High School. She was removed to the Villa Hospital by the Daly City Police where she remains a patient.

Mrs. Helen Rode of Wellington street suffered numerous bruises and concussion, Monday of this week, when she was struck down by a machine at Mission and Lieb streets while attempting to cross the street. She was treated at the Villa Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeLucchi entertained, Saturday evening of last week, at a ravioli dinner in honor of their son Joseph's birthday anniversary. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Rovere, Mrs. Rachel Lavagnino, and Miss Stella Rovere.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O'Toole moved, Tuesday of this week, from their home on Washington street to San Francisco.

Leonard Pearson and Bill Burns of Hayward were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Remington at their home on Railroad avenue, Wednesday evening of this week.

An Editor's Dilemma

North Carolina's libel laws seem reasonable enough, as it is said that a newspaper may clear itself of liability if it retracts offending statements within a reasonable time. But it appears that in a case which has recently arisen a retraction would only make matters worse.

Commenting on the candidacy of F. D. Grist for the United States Senate, the Greensboro News said the gentleman would make "an elegant dog-catcher." Mr. Grist demands a retraction of the statement, which was highly offensive to him.

The editor seems willing to do the right thing, but points out that retracting would imply that the gentleman would not make an elegant dog-catcher; in other words, was not fit to be a dog-catcher. And the News admits that "there is nothing whatever in the public record of this distinguished citizen that would warrant such a conclusion."

So, at last report the News was standing by its original statement, refusing to retract, and declaring "it will stand a lawsuit first."

Because he tried to get out of jail at Sherman, Tex., Jodie Lloyd lost one of his legs. The leg, an artificial one, was taken from him as punishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Franzola, who have been making their home in South San Francisco since their marriage a year ago, have recently moved to Price street, Daly City.

A large crowd was in attendance at the whist party given at the home of Mrs. Ray Lagomarsino on 88th street. The affair, for the benefit of the Colma Parent Teachers Association, was given by Mrs. Lagomarsino and Mrs. O. Guisti. Mrs. Marie Snajdauf was winner of the large box of groceries given as door prize and Mesdames F. Kahle and Irene Moresco tied for first playing prize. Refreshments consisting of home made cake and coffee were served by the two hostesses at the close of the evening. Announcement was made of the P. T. A. whist party to be held, Tuesday afternoon of next week, at 2:15 o'clock in the Jefferson School Annex. Mrs. J. J. Grondona will be chairman.

A group consisting of Mesdames Nellie Jensen, H. L. Remington, and Ethel Dorn were among those who attended the first Women's Division fete luncheon held, Wednesday afternoon of this week, at the States Restaurant in San Francisco. Officers were elected for the newly formed patriotic organization.

Friends will be glad to hear that Mrs. Rose Tosetti of Lawndale is showing a gradual improvement from a serious illness.

Mrs. Pete Ramer is convalescing at her home on Cavour street, following her return from a San Francisco hospital, where she was confined for six weeks with illness.

Mrs. Matt Cortesi of Precita avenue, San Francisco, spent a pleasant afternoon, Monday of this week, visiting at the home of her mother Mrs. Fred Silicani on Washington street.

Bernice Benedetti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Benedetti of Clara street, returned to school, Monday of this week, following an illness which kept her confined to her home for several days.

Fred Corwin suffered a knee injury, Saturday of last week, while working at Witt's Dairy in Colma. Taken to the Junipero Serra Hospital, he remained a patient until Wednesday of this week when he was removed to his home.

Pupils of Miss Rose's Dancing School are hard at work practicing for their performance at the Gold Star Mothers celebration which will be given at the War Memorial Building in San Francisco, on Washington's Birthday. The public is invited to attend the affair and there will be no admission charge.

Church Whist Party

The Ladies of Holy Angels Church of Colma are preparing to give a whist party for the benefit of their church in the parish hall on Friday, February 25 at 8:30 p.m.

The committee for the party is working hard to have many and valuable prizes and they extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

stationed at the City Hall during the storm to render instant relief if needed. A large electric sign at Westlake and Mission blew down, causing considerable alarm in that immediate vicinity.

Four or five large trees, that protected the athletic field back of the Jefferson Union High School, toppled over.

About 10:30 in the evening a sudden gust peeled off the roof of the L. Pezzola home, 156 Miriam street, and the family hastened to procure canvas covers from neighbors to protect their furniture from the beating rain.

Consternation reigned among the cakes and pies in the Relish Bakery, when one of the plate glass windows blew in with a crash sending pieces of broken glass all over the place.

Not only will Wednesday, February 9, go down in local history as a red letter day, but for the whole Peninsula, as well, for its entire territory seemed to be the chosen center for the storm's fury.

LEGION BODIES TO PUT ON SHOW

The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary of the Twenty-sixth District are holding a "Jubilesta" at the Bell Monti Country Club tomorrow, Saturday, night. This is to be a gala and festive occasion. There will be dancing on the main floor, various card games on the mezzanine floor and a 49'er Camp in the club rooms. Everyone is putting forth all efforts to make this a grand success, as the proceeds are to go toward sending the uniformed bodies in the district to the national convention in Los Angeles this coming fall. All who attend are assured a pleasant and entertaining evening.

The next regular meeting of the Daly City Unit will be held Wednesday evening of next week. This will be a Valentine party. Mrs. Mary Crane, district Americanism chairman, will speak on the "Ideals of Americanism."

On Saturday evening, February 26, the Unit will hold a spaghetti dinner. A social evening is being planned for that affair.

On Tuesday evening of this week a group of members motored to Menlo Park and assisted in the initiation of a class of candidates. On Wednesday evening they assisted in Redwood City.

Belmont Club Is Scene Of Jubilesta

Tomorrow, Saturday night, February 12, at the Belmont Country Club, the American Legion Auxiliary and 40-8 Society will hold their first "Jubilesta," a dancing and fiesta affair, with Fred Lamb's union dance orchestra playing for the occasion. T. Louis Chess, is general chairman. Doors will open at 8 p.m., and the affair will continue until 2 a.m.

These three organizations have been working hard for two months and every indication points to a huge crowd in attendance at this affair.

EVENT CLOSES SOCIAL ACTIVITY

Next week Thursday, will take place, at the White House, the Army and Navy reception, the last of a series of social affairs dated on President and Mrs. Roosevelt's calendar.

Strained relations between President Roosevelt and the Supreme Court has been forgotten in White House social affairs this winter.

Observing the first rule of capital society, "Don't start a controversy," President and Mrs. Roosevelt included on their social program the usual dinner and reception in honor of members of the Supreme Court.

The White House formal entertainment calendar extended from December 14, the date of the Cabinet dinner, to February 17, when the last large reception will be held.

Publication of the White House social program is always a signal for Washington hostesses to begin planning their own formal parties for no one can expect to get an Ambassador as guest on the evening of the diplomatic dinner at the White House or a high-ranking Army officer on the night of the Army and Navy reception.

An invitation to the White House, especially to a dinner, has long been considered tantamount to a command, though Mrs. Roosevelt has made it clear that she wants no one to feel compelled to accept while she is hostess.

The scheduled formal affairs are the only ones the President himself is compelled to attend, but his wife usually crowds in additional teas, luncheons and smaller dinners for various groups.

He was about to place his car in a garage when he was struck by a heavy farm truck. He sustained a badly crushed chest, punctured lungs and fatal head injuries. The accident occurred Monday evening of this week.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a widow, Josephine Johnston, a small son, two sisters, Margaret Pettigrew and Grace Bacigalupi, and a brother, David M. Johnston. Funeral services were conducted this (Friday) morning, with interment at Holy Cross.

CANTOR STARS IN SPECTACULAR HIT

Joining forces for the first time with hit-making Twentieth Century-Fox in the happiest mirth merger in the history of hilarity, Eddie Cantor brings Bagdad up to date in his starring extravaganza musical hit, "Ali Baba Goes to Town," featuring Tony Martin, Roland Young, June Lang, Louise Hovick and a tremendous cast, opening Sunday at the Daly City Theater, which is enriched by a revolutionary new three-tone tinted process.

Ali Baba Eddie slaps a head tax on harems and a tail tax on camels, slips carpet tacks under the sit-down strikers and snaps the sultan into step with the march of time as Bagdad goes Broadway to the new hit tunes by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, "I've Got My Heart Set On You," "Laugh Your Way Through Life," and "Swing Is Here to Stay," and the modernistic swing composition, "Twilight in Turkey," authored by Raymond Scott, leader of the famed quintet.

ANNIVERSARY OF P T A FOUNDED

On February 17, 1938, approximately 1820 associations in California, with a membership of 221,989 will join hands with the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in celebrating the forty-first anniversary of its founding.

Archives of the National Congress in Washington, contain many interesting facts about the founders of the far-flung organization, which now unites 2,056,777 members in every state and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii.

Mrs. Alice McLellan Birney served as president of the National Congress of Mothers from 1897 to 1902. She died in 1907. Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst lived to see the organization established in 33 states before her death in 1919.

Mrs. A. L. Hamilton of Pasadena, Calif., who served the California Congress of Parents and Teachers during 1910-12 is now the oldest living president.

Back Seat Driver Finally Gets His!

At Olympia, Washington, recently, Ivan Jones, who was a passenger in his own car, riding in the back seat, was fined $50 for drunken driving because the driver was drunk.

The state law is that the owner is responsible for his auto, and for whoever is driving it.

FATAL ENDING TO SHORT ILLNESS

Services were conducted from the mortuary chapel of W. C. Lasswell and Co., Wednesday morning of this week at 10 o'clock, followed by interment in Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

Because he likes "to see the fire engines run," Gervase Blake, 14-year-old Chicago boy, admitted setting nine fires on Chicago's North Side residential section.
